ANGLO-IRISH PACT SURE TO BE RATIFIED, IS BELIEVED

Opposition Made Up Of De Valera Adherents Standing Firm

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

London, Jan. 3.—Irish dispatches agree that the recess of the Dail Eireann has made virtually certain ratification of the Anglo-Irish Agreement by a comfortable majority whereas if a vote had been taken before the holidays the result would have been questionable.

The recess had the effect of bringing out the silent sentiment of the people and afforded opportunity for the press to be heard and for letters to reach Dublin from Irish counties.

One correspondent quotes the Bishop of Cork as saying that ninety percent of that extremist center were in favor of ratification of the agreement.

OPPOSITION REMAINS

While certain followers of De Valera will remain organised in opposition to the agreement with a separate republic program as a platform, it is believed in a plebescite De Valera would not be able to carry his own constituency for any renewal of warfare.

The first members of the Dail Eireann who have returned to Dublin report that their home districts are solid for peace.

It is reported also that the Unionists of the southern counties are joining the Sinn Feiners in upholding the treaty.

Conservative estimates are that the agreement will be ratified by a majority of twelve votes. The most confident believe that now a period of unrest, inefficiency and discord is inevitable before the untrained government composed of men experienced in measures of destruction can work out a technique of administration. Also friction over the matter of offices is inevitable.

ASSEMBLY MEETS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 3.—The Dail Eireann re-assembled this morning. More than a hundred resolutions by public bodies in favor of ratification of the Anglo-Irish Agreement were lodged.

Mr. O'Connor, Minister of Agriculture, opposed the treaty and declared that it was a step backwards. Messrs. Pierce and Beasley supported the treaty as the only alternative to chaos. The Countess Markieviecz fiercely opposed it and declared that the Irish plenipotentiaries had been tricked.

Mr. J. J. Walsh, of Cork, declared that 90 percent of the inhabitants were in favor of the treaty.

"Forward, March!"—III

BY EUGENE CHEN

I break up the State in two. There is the leader-class that thinks and plans and acts; and there is the mass-class that follows and, on the whole, enjoys the work of the leader-class.

The Factor Of Leadership

EUGENE CHEN

I emphasised this great fact of life and used it in a recent address on the Chinese Republic in its constitutional and cultural aspects. I said the Republic marked the transfer, so to speak, of China from the Old Regime to the People as a common national possession, and that this operation involved a profound change in values. I did not say that every peasant in China was aware of the change. But I did say that what might be called the dynamic section of the Nation was permeated with it in the sense that it had become a new and powerful spring of action. And I suggested that, if this was a fact, the change was a reality in the national life which no wise mind could ignore.

Here we faced the question of leadership which, defined simply, meant the capacity of some to lead and of others to follow. This was inherent in the scheme of things as long as men varied in capacity; and some had to do the thinking and the planning and others to act, and the crowded majority to follow and enjoy the labors of the "dynamic" workers.

The Leader-Class In China

True, the leader-class in China is, today, divided. And this division is important. One section of it believes in the Chinese Republic (a) as a deliverance of the Chinese People from the Manchu Conquest and as a constitutional guarantee against a Manchu or other imperial restoration, and (b) as an instrument which can secure the modernisation of China in terms of Western political and economic thought without injury to the foundations of the State as a historical product of Chinese cultural forces. This section is meant when reference is made to the "Southern leaders." The other and rival section of the leader-class includes the elders of the Mandarinate and the feudal chieftains of the Tuchunate. They are sometimes referred to as the "Northern leaders."

Meaning Of "North" And "South"

Note, however, that the terms "North" and "South," and "Northern" and "Southern" have a political, not a geographical, content. Some of the most sinister leaders of the "North" are Cantonese, whilst some of the leading figures of the "South" are from a province like Chihli in which Peking itself is situated. The terminology is explained by the fact that the provinces at or south of the historic line of the Yangtsze were the first to declare for the Republic and are regarded generally as being more progressive, politically, then those north of the line.

The Central Differenee

In terms of political action, the central difference between these two sections of the governing forces of China is seen in their respective attitude towards the parliamentary system as an instrument of government. The "South" affirms the political and psychological necessity of the Chinese People, as a whole, co-operating in the work of modernising China as an effective state-unit, which, at the present stage of man's political thought and experience, can be done only through the machinery of parliamentary government. On the other hand, the "North"—so far as its policy can be intellectualised—appears to deny the capacity and adequacy of the parliamentary instrument so to modernise China and therefore relies on some form of non-parliamentary rule for the government of the country, e.g. the rule of the strong man.

Northern Leaders In Power

I insist here on a capital fact. In whose hands have been centered the powers of government—i.e. who have been "running" China vis-a-vis the Foreign Powers—since the establishment of the Republic in 1911-12? Clearly, the "Northern leaders"—first, Yuan Shih-kai and, next, his twin successors of the Mandarinate and the Tuchunate. If that is so, it is not only unhistorical but non-sensical to charge with incapacity and other graver sins those who, under the inspiration of American political thought and practice, resolved to democratise the conception of government in China and transform her political and economic structure by the same means which have made for success in the case of the leading states of Greater Europe.

Note this well: PRESIDENT SUN YAT-SEN AND HIS CO-WORKERS, WHO FOUNDED THE CHINESE REPUBLIC, HAVE NEVER HAD A CHANCE OF RULING CHINA AS A REPUBLICAN STATE AND SHOWING WHAT THE PROGRESSIVE SECTION OF THE LEADER-CLASS OF THE NATION COULD DO IN THE WORK OF MODERN GOVERNMENT. Unless this fact is realised and deeply borne in mind, you will see nothing but disorder and futility and incapacity in a phase of this Nation's life which, I assert, exceeds in promise and potency the richest age of European history.

The Factor Of Culture

I dwelt on this point in a passage of the address to which I have referred. I said that the Republic linked China with the great source-spring of all European thought. I traced the line of connexion by pointing out that the Republican idea was foreign, as a practical political theory, to Chinese political thought. We owed it to the West. We received it directly from America, the land to which our rulers of tomorrow went trooping in their thousands even as men in other days had gone to Athens in quest of the knowledge that was power. I mentioned Athens, because, through England, America in her turn was linked to the great Age of Pericles.

Root Of American Political Thought

My point was this. American political thought was at its root English. And English political thought had been decisively moulded by Greek political thought. The influence of Plato and Aristotle, for instance, had been peculiarly deep in England. Professor Ernest Barker had pointed out that the curriculum of the oldest and most important branch of studies at Oxford found in Republic of Plato and the Ethics of Aristotle its central texts; and truths drawn from Greek thought had been learned in Oxford and enforced in the world not only—Professor Barker said—by the thinkers but also by the men of action who had been trained in this curriculum.

Generations of students had learned from the master-minds of old Greece the lessons that "man by the law of his being is a member of a political community"; that the true state was a "partnership in a life of virtue"; that righteousness consisted for each man in the fulfilment of his appointed function in the life and action of the community. And they had listened to the proud

WOOD TELLS HIS AIMS IN PHILIPPINES

New Governor General Formulates Program Of Government

ISSUES LETTER

Policy To Be Based On Findings Of Report Sent To Washington

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, P. I., Dec. 28.—Governor General Leonard Wood has set about formulating a program for the Philippine Government based upon the findings and the recommendations contained in the Wood-Forbes report, which he and ex-Governor Forbes submitted to President Harding after their intensive and thorough study of conditions in the Philippines. He has sent to all department secretaries letters asking them for suggestions and recommendations and making several indirect recommendations.

TELLS HIS AIMS

In a letter, a copy of which was sent to each department secretary, Governor Wood says:

"I now intend to prepare a government program which, although stated in general terms in so far as principles and ultimate objectives are concerned, I believe should be prepared in as much detail as possible for the next four years.

"This program will set forth the principles of government, the objectives it is hoped to attain and the means thought necessary, whether they be legislation, money or personnel, to attain the objectives sought, together with concrete recommendations on these points."

To assist and guide the secretaries he enclosed a memorandum prepared by the Wood-Forbes mission, which recognised the fact that the Government had permitted certain evils to creep in.

CHICAGO BANKS MERGE; FINANCIAL CRISIS IS AVERTED

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Jan. 3.—The Continental and Commercial National Bank and the Continental and Commercial Trust Savings Bank have taken over the Fort Dearborn National Bank and the Fort Dearborn Trust Savings Bank and have guaranteed all deposits placed with those two institutions, which on September 6 totalled $60,000,000.

The Chicago Clearing House Commission has examined the affairs of the two Fort Dearborn banks and have found that their assets have been impaired by bad loans and investments. Banking circles are of the opinion that the merger has averted the most serious financial crisis which has threatened Chicago at any time during the last ten years.

As a result of the merger the Continental and Commercial National Bank interests have now combined assets of nearly $525.-000,000, the second largest in the United States.

PEKING IS SEEKING CONSORTIUM LOAN OF NINETY MILLION

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 4.—A proposal has been made that the Consortium should issue bonds to the value of Mex. $90,000,000, secured on the salt surplus, for the purpose of consolidating loans secured on salt amounting to approximately $75,000,000,000 leaving the balance of some $15,000,000 presumably available to the Central Government. The Chinese Banking Group are being invited to participate in this issue.

The Chinese state semi-officially that, while the Central Government and the Chinese bankers never accepted the New Consortium, they felt themselves bound by the stipulations of the Reorganisation Loan Agreement providing that the Government, if it desires to float further loans secured on salt, must first consult the Quintuple Group and also that the latter have the right to transfer its privileges. Objets d'Art Scream For Display Space Here

By Elsie McCormick

The young lady known as Virginia Adams, who sits at the next desk to us and occasionally borrows our glue or trades remarks about what people had on the night before, has an article in THE EVENING STAR on "Why Not an Art Museum in Shanghai?" We don't often read the Star, but yesterday evening we couldn't find the Municipal Gazette and so we did. Thus, to the knots that Girl Guides have already learned to make, we are adding a "Why Not."

Surely it must be plain to the most myopic of observers that Shanghai is the home of the crude and refined arts, the paradise of rough and planed culture and the nesting-place of trimmed and untrimmed temperament. There is more art to be found in Shanghai than there are hairpins on the floor of a women's gymnasium.

Everything here is artistic, even Nature. Note the waters of the Whangpoo, so clear that you can see the outlines of an object deep as one inch from the surface, consider the beautiful suburb of Yangtszepoo, with its curling factory chimneys and straight, red brick smoke, pause for a moment to admire the trees that used to grow in the Public Garden before they were cut down to make more room for the rickshas to run into each other.

OODLES OF ART HERE

Yes, yes, Shanghai is simply crammed and bulging with art. The only trouble is that Virginia has the wrong idea about that museum. She wants to put bronzes in it, and tall ovoid vases, and something made out of tourmaline, though we assured her that maline has gone out of fashion and priceless bowl of sky-blue-after-rain, which sounds as if it ought to belong to the great Indian chief called "Rain-in-the-Face." Then in the middle of her article she says something about "Art objects." We should think art would object, because some of its most worthy phases have been omitted.

Now if we were running that Museum, it would all be different. Virginia says that there is a collection in town possessing the full figures of Chinese heroes. We wondered why the W. C. T. U. didn't protest in order to protect the fair name of China. Then a little farther on we read something about "still life," which we assume must be the portrait of a newspaper copy boy trying not to hear somebody call him or a Chinese telephone operator when we are trying to get a number.

Incidentally Hermione, the lady who lives with us, said yesterday that any New Thoughter wishing to "go into the silence" need only take down a Shanghai telephone receiver.

THE UNIQUE TAILOR

But as we remarked before, we have a different idea about that museum. Instead of putting in some mere tourmaline vases, why not include a few really rare objects, such as a Chinese servant who always shuts doors behind him or a tailor who knows how to sew in sleeves? We never ran across a Far Eastern domestic problem yet who didn't think that a door was something to let in cold air and thus prevent people from suffering from heat prostration during the winter. As for a tailor who knows how to put in sleeves, we are sure that practically all the Number One clothing misfitters cut them out with a battle-axe and fit them in with a plumber's kit. If it wasn't for being regarded as facetious, we might remark that the sleeves are not really so bad; they only seam that way.

We would also like to have included in the museum one of that rare ricsha coolie specie who doesn't try to beat a street car across the track. Nearly all of them try it, even if they cover the rest of the way at the pace of a small boy going to the doctor's to have his tonsils out. Apparently they are impelled by some obscure sporting instinct and are bolstered up by the fact that they get across the danger zone at least three feet ahead of their passenger.

And there certainly should be room for some of the foreign ladies' millinery produced by venturesome tailors who believe that anything which will fit on a head is a hat. We know a lady whose cook gave her a hat for Christmas. It looks like a toy rowboat surmounted by the turret of a battleship, and the lady doesn't know what to do about it, because he is a very good cook and his brother-in-law made the hat, and if he loses too much face in the matter he is likely to leave his job. If there was only a museum to which she could present the nautical millinery, there would be contentment in all directions. We know of another lady whose houseboy asked her for a lady's hat for Christmas, and according to last reports, he is wearing it with pride and an elastic under his chin. The hat, with its wearer, might also make an appropriate exhibit for Shanghai's sanctum of the arts.

Of course a worthwhile museum might be expected to take an interest in painting, and therefore could find use for one of the popular ball rooms as an annex. Besides, there should be a special department for such priceless documents as "Hot and Cold Faucets for Sale Here" and the now famous restaurant label, "Real American Chop Suey Served."

Yes, by all means let us have an art museum in Shanghai. Let us, as Virginia Adams suggests, include some brasses. But let the Number One piece of the collection be a brass band leading the interment festivities of a leading Chinese citizen to the tune of "The Left All Alone Again Blues."

Small-pox Decreases 75 Percent Among Foreign Residents

A decrease of 75 percent in the number of small pox cases among foreign residents, and an increase of deaths of Chinese residents of the Settlement are reported in this morning's Municipal Gazette. The figures for the week ending Sunday are foreign cases reported 3, and Chinese cases 54. Other communicable diseases among foreigners are practically nil.

FRANCE YIELDS POINT ON SUBMARINE QUESTION, IS WASHINGTON REPORT

Will Accept In Principle Proposal To Prohibit Use Of Undersea Craft Against Merchant Ships And Indications Are Italians And Japanese Will Not Interpose Any Serious Objections

CHITA DISCLOSURES ARE SENSATION

Charges Of Siberian Delegation Concerning Secret Franco-Japanese Agreements Branded As Gross Fabrication In Protest Of French Government

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 4.—The very important news has been received from Washington to the effect that France has accepted in principle the proposal to prohibit the use of submarines against merchant men, reserving final approval pending discussion as to the precise language.

The Italians and Japanese have not received final instructions but there are indications that they will not interpose with any serious objection if France approves.

Meanwhile it is undeniable that the publication of the alleged Franco-Japanese correspondence has made a great stir, particularly in the American press. Nevertheless, it is declared that the Conference itself does not take the matter seriously and the exchange of letters between M. Sarraut and Mr. Hughes in that connection should help to clear the air.

To M. Sarraut's letter declaring that the documents were forgeries, Mr. Hughes replied accepting the statement that the documents were "not authentic," adding: "I am gratified to learn that the French Government formally denies that it had come to any agreement or carried on any negotiations concerning the status of Siberia."

All the Chita Delegates' rancour is against Japan, who, they assert, will remain in possession of Siberia unless forced to withdraw. The Japanese repeat their readiness to evacuate when they obtain guarantees safeguarding the lives and property of the Japanese resident there.

It is thought that one result of the affair will be the strengthening of the wording of Mr. Hughes's resolution pledging the Powers to respect Russia's territorial integrity.

The work in committee on the details of the Nine-Power Treaty affecting China is practically finished. It is stated that the Treaty will follow the line of Mr. Elihu Root's resolution.

(Trans-Pacific News Service China Press Exclusive Service)

Washington, Jan. 3.—Disclosures made by the Chita delegation to the Conference purporting to lay bare secret negotiations and agreements made between France and Japan in the course of the past two years and particularly planning concerted action at the Disrmament Conference have proved to be a veritable sensation, but these extraordinary developments are being received without comment from American officials.

According to further revelations made by the Chita contingent a protocol was drafted in Paris on January 14, 1921 by Japanese representatives and a French military body and by the terms of this document France approves of the temporary occupation by Japan of Siberia and takes the position that if Japan will agree to transport to Siberia Wrangel's army, which France was no longer able to support in Eastern Europe, then France will agree to give Japan full freedom of action in Siberia. The alleged protocol continues as follows:

"After the liberation of Siberia from the Bolsheviki France agrees that the Japanese Government may manage affairs in such manner that the liberated territory, while being under Japanese protection but with a Russian Government, would fall absolutely under Japanese influence and control.

Other disclosures of the Chita delegation set forth that a treaty of March 12, 1921 arranged between France, Japan and Russian delegates provides that after the liberation of Siberia from the Bolsheviki Japan will acquire domination over Siberia together with supervision of Siberia's administration and military forces and all concessons will belong to Japan. This alleged treaty concedes the right to Japan to maintain military forces at strategic places.

By the terms of the alleged treaty Japan agrees to evacuate the Wrangel army to Siberia, equip it and support White armies sent from Peking.

MAKES PROTEST

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 3.—The French Government through M. Sarraut issued tonight the text of a protest that has been sent to Secretary of State Hughes branding as "a gross fabrication" the alleged secret correspondence between French and Japanese officials regarding Siberia.

The disclosures of the Siberian delegation continue to monopolise Conference discussions. One theory advanced here is that while the Paris and Tokio foreign offices may be fully within the truth in disclaiming knowledge of the alleged dispatches it is within range of possibility that French and Japanese militarists, acting in co-operation with Russian monarchists may on their own initiative without authority have attempted to carry out the scheme for the use of Wrangel's army in Siberia.

Boris Skviraky, spokesman of the Chita delegation, said tonight that while only copies of the alleged dispatches had been exhibited it was sincerely believed these are copies of authentic originals. He

SHRINERS' BALL TONIGHT WILL BE COLORFUL EVENT

All preliminary prospects considered the Shriners' Ball, to be held this evening at the Town Hall, should be one of the outstanding features of the current social season.

Elaborate preparations have been completed for the affair, particularly in the way of a setting for the dance. The decorative scheme is unquestionably one of the most effective ever evolved for such an occasion here and promises to give the evening a picturesque touch of unusual appeal. The basic principles of the scheme were described in yesterday's issue; to say more of them might rob tonight's attendants of some of the charm which is assured.

The guests expected number over 1,000 and the committee has completed all arrangements to care for as many more visitors as may appear. The affair will be started with a grand march which will be led by Captain Dickerson and the Nomad Oasis patrol in costume.

A buffet supper is to be served in the rooms to the left of the main hall and the platform at the West end of the ball room has been removed and the space will be especially arranged as a resting place for the guests. The menu for the supper is an attractive one and various other refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

The music is to be supplied by Kerrey's orchestra, which will play from a specially constructed stand in the center of the hall, created in the semblance of a desert oasis, with the regulation palms and a waterfall and running stream.

The funds realised by the dance will be used in defraying the expenses of the ceremonial and entertainments to be held in connection with the forthcoming pilgrimage of Shriners from America who are expected here about the end of the month.

declared that several thousands of Wrangel's troops now are fighting in Eastern Siberia under direction of the Japanese together with remnants of Semenov's forces with the object of pushing the Japanese foothold in Siberia deeper into the territory of the Far Eastern Republic.

The Chita delegates assert that they issued the documents as a gesture of desperation having been refused three times any hearing by Secretary Hughes whom they addressed as President of the Conference. They felt justified, they said, under the circumstances "to give the truth to the world."

DOUBTS ARE HEARD

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 2.—Varying degrees of belief and unbelief are being expressed in conference circles in the matter of the sensational disclosures made by the Chita delegates regarding what purports to be a secret treaty between France and Japan to maintain solidarity on all questions at the Conference.

The disclosures give the alleged communications which are said to have passed between the Japanese and French foreign offices within the last two years. One of the documents is a cable to Tokio dated at Paris, September 2, 1921. It reads:

"We take into consideration the interests of Japan to the same extent as we have done before, especially since our government is convinced that with regard to all questions which will be discussed at Washington the French government will have to rely on Japan only.

"Our agreement with Japan on the Siberian question forces us to be very careful, for our decisions are in conflict with the policy of America, which is now playing an important part in the Far East. The Americans, therefore, are pushing the Eastern question so as to gain supremacy in the East. We must resist such efforts by all means, and the French government hopes to have the help of the Japanese government in this stand."

The note, in continuing, states that France supports Japan's desire to create a "free republic in the Far East" under the protectorship of Japan, and asks that France be informed regarding the transactions of the Dairen Conference with the understanding that Japan will not forget French interests in the Chinese Eastern Railway.

France strongly advises Japan not to evacuate Siberia, because the time is still premature.

On September 7, Tokio is quoted as replying:

"The Japanese government notes with gratification its solidarity with the viewpoint expressed by you and which may be put forth at the Washington conference. Nevertheless, the Imperial government is compelled to declare that under no circumstances will it renounce the principle which is being carried out with regard to the Siberian problem.

The Japanese government is very pleased to know that the French government intends to defend this viewpoint. It would be very desirable if this question were finally settled before the conference.

"Our policy in the new republic will be a real policy which will not tolerate any foreign interference. It is too early to speak of evacuation, as everything depends on what takes place in the near future in Soviet Russia."

Both the French and the Japanese delegations at the conference have issued official denials of the authenticity of the two notes.

ISSUE FORMAL DENIAL

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 3.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs formally denies the allegations in regard to the alleged Franco-Japanese agreement for a common policy in Siberia.

M. Sarraut, writing to Mr. Hughes, declared that no agreement had been concluded and that the documents published were all forgeries. He pointed out that these false rumors merely tended to create suspicion between the great Powers assembled at Washington.

AMERICANS INDIGNANT

(Reuter's Special Service)

London, Jan. 3.—Notwithstanding the description of the documents published by the representatives of the Far Eastern Republic as malicious fabrications by the French and Japanese delegations, the uncomfortable impression has not been dissipated pending the final evidence.

The Americans are particularly indignant at the passages in the alleged arrangements about American designs on Siberia and Russia. The French are most annoyed at the growing distrust of their policy which is finding an outlet in plain speaking and biting cartoons in American newspapers. It is even surmised that the French may take advantage of the newly bred atmosphere of suspicion to pack up and leave Washington.

REPUDIATE NOTES

(Reuter's Service)

London, January 3.—Most of the Washington correspondents repudiate the genuineness of the alleged Franco-Japanese correspondence issued by the Chita Delegation, arguing on the ground of the clumsiness of the phraseology and the nature of the contents that the documents are forged.

One writer says that a glance shows that they are not only forgeries but are so clumsily concocted that they ought to deceive no one.

Nevertiieless the opinion is expresed that the effect is bound to be deplorable, especially in connection with the frantic efforts in certain quarters of the United States to prevent the ratification of the Pacific and other agreements.

ANOTHER SECRET PACT

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 4.—The Chita Delegation has published the text of an alleged treaty between the Japanese Army in Siberia and Russian officers connected with M. Semenoff, under which the Japanese are alleged to have agreed to support with arms and money an offensive against the Far Eastern Republic.

One clause of the alleged treaty states that when a stable government is established, Japanese subjects shall have preferential rights in Siberia for hunting, fishing, and forestry and mining concessions.

BRIAND GIVES VIEW

London, Jan. 3.—Interviewed in Paris on the eve of his departure for Cannes M. Briand declared that the key to the whole situation is France's security. A pact or alliance between Britain and France, he declared—a pact which we offered and asked for but did not obtain—would be the best proof that our naval building program was not and never could be directed against our English friends. It would be the platform on which the reconstruction of Europe, in order to be effective and lasting, could best be based.

M. Briand suggested that alliances taking in the other Allies might gradually be attached to the pact, perhaps in the form of the Pacific agreement, but the Franco-British pact must be the basis of them all.

He referred with marked feeling and almost distress to the British and American comments on the French Delegation's attitude towards the submarine question and insisted on the necessity for France, if left to her own resources, of taking measures to guarantee her security in view of uncertain factors, like Russia's army of 2,000,000 men and the new cruisers Germany was authorised to build under the Versailles Treaty.

REPORT STIRS CONFERENCE

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—Exclusive To The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 3.—Announcement by the Indian commission of the receipt of a telegram announcing that the proclamation of an Indian Republic has been issued and that tactics that permit use of force are to be employed has stirred conference circles. It is feared that a national clash is inevitable and that fateful events are taking form.

All indications are that the conference will be brought to a final end on or before January 20. Delegates now are booking their homeward passages.

saying of Pericles in his great Funeral Speech: "We differ from other states in regarding the man who holds aloof from public life, not as harmless but as useless."

A Vision Of Tomorrow

I went on to say that the Republic, on its cultural side, marked the beginning of a real renaissance in China, which might even rival—in the sphere of the mind and morals—the achievements of the great epoch in Europe covering the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. And as the West could not be what it was today if the Greek mind had not fed it, so was there the promise of a Chinese assimilation of the same cultural food through the Republic as an American and, ultimately, as a Hellenic thought. We were an original mind with a civilisation and culture of our own. In the past we gave, we hardly ever received. Today—through the Republic—we were receiving for the first time in our long recorded history.

"But," I ended, "we shall pay back in ample measure. The Chinese mind is receiving an impetus from the West that must set it working in such wise that, some day not too far off, we may be for the West what we have been for this region of Asia in the past—a source of intellectual light and of moral enlightenment."

New Woman's Building For The Shanghai College

A gift of $50,000 gold has just been announced for a woman's building at Shanghai College. The money has been paid over and plans are being prepared for what will in some respects be the finest building on the campus. It will be a most unique building in China.

The building program for Shanghai College in 1922 is a large one, as it includes also two missionary residences, a large Kindergarten Training School Building, for which $40,000 gold is on hand, and a new Academy building, to cost about $30,000. These two amounts and the money for the residences have been contributed by the Southern Baptist Board. The total for buildings this year is $127,000 gold.

Regarding the new building for the women students, the history of this gift is remarkably interesting. When Doctor George Huntley was in America two years ago he met a Christian gentleman and his wife who are deeply interested in the work. He told them about the work of Shanghai College as a place of training for Christian leaders, and as an evangelistic agency where many decide to become Christians who otherwise might not hear the gospel. So these good people wanted a share in this work and offered to put up a new dormitory. The money, $60,000 Mex., was cabled over, and in less than 12 months the building was put up and fully occupied by students.

The donors were so well pleased with their investment that when Doctor Huntley met them again they were ready to make another contribution. The work of co-education, recently started at Shanghai College, was mentioned to them and their interest was much aroused in this particular feature. When Doctor Huntley suggested that $40,000 was needed to put a suitable building for the women's dormitory and such recitation and social rooms as might be desirable, the donors themselves increased the figure to $50,000 gold.

This gift was announced in June last year, but meanwhile some doubts arose on the part of a few of the leading women of the denomination in America as to the wisdom of starting co-education at this time. The gift was withheld for a time pending certain investigations. Thanks to the eloquent pleading of President White while on a short business trip to America last summer, the Women's Foreign Missionary Society became fully assured of the good of co-education, and that now was the right time for it that they gave their full approval to the work. Following this decision the money for the new building was paid in.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the gift is the fact that the donors do not want it known who has given the money. The officers of the Society and others on the inside know them, but they are not allowed to give them publicity. They believe that such gifts should be made without ostentation. In writing to Dr. Huntley last week, the donor said: "I hope that the money will be used to erect a beautiful building for the education of the women of China, and will prove a blessing for a thousand years."

President White, in announcing the gift in the Chapel the other day, referring again to his great faith in the need of co-education in China, spoke with pardonable pride of the fact that Shanghai College could claim to be the leader in the enterprise.

"Several other colleges," Doctor White said, "both Government and missionary, are already following this lead, the most recent institution contemplating such a step being the West China Union University of Chengtu. There is no chance at present for a Woman's College in Szechuen, and the only opportunity the women of these far Western provinces of China would have of a college education is in a co-educational institution. The establishment of co-education in China is one of the biggest steps that has been taken for the advancement of women's education in China in a thousand years."

LETT IS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO MURDER WOMAN

Richard Saulyberg, a Lett, 24 Jukong Road, appeared before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with the attempted murder of Eldakeya Paletika at 54 Kiangse Road on the night of January 1. Saulyberg was further charged with assaulting the woman and with destroying a dress valued at $50.

He was found guilty of the last two charges and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment, sentence to be suspended so long as he does not further molest the woman or does not appear in court. The court stated that it was not satisfied the accused meant to kill the complainant, though a dagger and a sword stick were found in his possession at the time of his arrest at the Kiangse Road house. In giving judgment it strongly advised Saulyberg to leave town, which he promised to do.

The complainant testified that she and Saulyberg came to Shanghai about fifteen months ago from Vladivostok, where they had been living as man and wife, and that since that time defendant had not been employed and had been receiving money from her. This the accused denied, declaring that he came to Shanghai with $700 which was used in supporting them both.

The complainant stated that Saulyberg came into her room on the afternoon of January 1 and threatened her and that he returned in the evening intoxicated, drew a knife and threatened to "finish" her. When she screamed, she said, he picked up the dress which she had been about to put on and threw it into the fireplace.

Heads Of Ruling Party In Philippines Split

Nacionalistas, In Power Since Harrison Assumed Office, Now Divided Force

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, P. I., Dec. 28.—A split in the Nacionalista party, the party which has been at the helm in Philippine politics since 1908 and which has virtually owned and operated the insular government since Francis Burton Harrison, as Governor General, inaugurated the democratic policy of Filipinosation, now seems practically sure. The matter will be determined early in the coming year.

Mr. Sergio Osmena, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Manuel L. Quezon, President of the Senate, have declared a holiday truce in a fight, which, when resumed, is expected to bring an irreparable rupture in the party ranks. The whole issue now is that of government leadership. Formerly the public assumed that these two men were engaged in an eternal battle over personal supremacy in politics. Their repeated statements of mutual goodwill, admiration and love failed to convince the rank and file of people that all was tranquil under the surface.

FIGHT IS OPENED

A party convention opened and so did the fight between them. Mr. Osmena insisted that the party should adopt a plank in its platform providing for governmental leadership to be committed to one man. He said that was his stand, irrespective of who might be selected by the party to lead. Mr. Quezon said he was fundamentally and firmly opposed to one man leadership, that he would not accept the leadership if it were offered to him on a silver platter. He preached that committing the government leadership to one person was for a democratic government making progress backward, that it was advancement in oligarchy and constituted a denial of the principles taught here by Americans and taken up by the Filipinos.

Finally Mr. Quezon suggested a policy of leadership by a committee, composed of four members from each branch of the legislature and cabinet members who embrace the Nacionalista faith. This seemed to afford an opening for a settlement on a compromise basis but Mr. Osmena blocked the compromise move by rejecting the proposal.

BOTH SURRENDER

With both of the leaders claiming credit for originating the idea each of them surrendered the extraordinary powers they wielded in their respective houses of legislature. The House of Representatives first, and the Senate following close behind adopted a resolution specifying that the presiding officer should have only the powers ordinarily delegated to a presiding officer. In the House the leadership or dictatorial prerogatives surrendered by the speakers were delegated to a committee of four, with Mr. Osmena's name conspicuous by its absence from the committee. The Senate decided that the leadership should be delegated to a committee, consisting of the whole membership of the Senate.

When the two leaders began to take an inventory at this juncture they came to an open disagreement as to the status of their controversy. Mr. Quezon said he had defeated the principle of one-man leadership in the government, that Mr. Osmena had conceded the point. Mr. Osmena replied in a defiant tone, saying the action of the House concerned only the working of that body and had nothing whatsoever to do with the main question of leadership for the whole government, that this issue would be settled at the party convention later. Then he had the party convention adjourned until late in January.

On the results of their fight depends to a very large degree the future course of the Philippine Government, at least of the Filipino government, and the harmonious working of that government when it comes into contact with the American Government and American officials, such as the Governor General. What effect their split may have on the independence move is a matter of much speculation.

Mr. Osmena has tendered his resignation as president of the Nacionalista Party and as vice-president of the Council of State. The Council of State is the cabinet plus the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate.

Measures In Philippines Being Taken For Lepers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Dec. 28.—The thousands of Philipinos suffering from leprosy are to be given more attention, particularly more treatment and more food. Dr. H. W. Wade, of the faculty of the College of Medicine, University of the Philippines, who recently spent some time at the Culion Leper Colony, where 5,000 persons suffering from the disease in all its stages are kept almost as prisoners, has prepared a report for the governor general in which he recommends radical reforms.

Until very recently the lepers were considered to be victims of an incurable disease and the only energy spent on them was devoted to segregating them from the other people of the islands, but now the authorities are awake to the fact that this disease is curable and official concern is beginning to be shown for the sufferers themselves. The reforms recommended are: More doctors, more nurses, better feeding, better hospital facilities, treatment for more of the sufferers and a full realisation that they are human beings.

LACK SUFFICIENT FOOD

Miss Harpley Embrey, food specialist for the Rockefeller Foundation, who recently came here from China, on a visit to Culion found that many times the lepers were forced to go long periods without sufficient food supplies. They have to depend largely upon fish and when the weather is stormy and fishing poor the supply of food runs short, particularly when the providing of substitute foods was neglected. Under-nourishment not only caused suffering among the lepers but weakened them until they more readily became victims of numerous other diseases in addition to leprosy.

For a colony of five thousand, kept on the little rocky island of Culion, there were only eight doctors, ten nurses and five Catholic Sisters, the latter serving as volunteer practical nurses.

NEED MORE DOCTORS

A hospital filled with three hundred sick people has only one doctor. Hospital wards are overcrowded at times and the suffering of the sick is intensified as a result of the neglect to which they are subjected. Dr. Wade urges the need of eighteen more doctors and twenty more nurses. Miss Embrey is now at Culion trying to work out a scientifically balanced ration best suited for the lepers.

The Government has appropriated pesos 200,000 for leprosy treatment but it is estimated by those who have studied the situation that this amount should be increased by fifty percent for the first year. A few Americans are among the lepers at Culion.

River Policeman Will Go To Court To Answer Charge

George Emanuel Pettersson, the river policeman who is accused of being responsible for the death of a Chinese laodah of a rice boat on Soochow Creek recently, will go before the Swedish court today or tomorrow for a hearing.

Pettersson was arrested by the Chapei police following the boatman's death, which is said to have been caused by a blow from a club. He was later turned over to the Customs authorities and yesterday was given into the charge of the Settlement police by order of the Swedish Acting Consul. He is being detained at Central station. His turning over to the Settlement authorities follows a considerable agitation among various Chinese organisations here and was ordered to give opportunity for a complete investigation of the facts.

Northcliffe Gives Opinion On Trade Outlook In Orient

(Reuter's Service)

Colombo, Jan. 4.—Lord Northcliffe, in the course of a statement today, said that he considered the outlook for British Trade in the Far East good, but German competition was very keen and there was, in addition, great American and French activity.

FURTHER HEARING IN SUIT AGAINST MOUTRIE AND CO.

In the British Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Skinner Turner, the suit of Mr. R. G. Ashton against Messrs. Moutrie and Co. for $5,000—$4,000 for alleged wrongful dismissal and $1,000 for alleged assault and battery—came up for hearing yesterday morning.

The plaintiff testified that he arrived in Shanghai in December, 1920 under a contract, his salary being $200 and a commission of two and a half percent. When the late Mr. F. J. Hinton arrived he called him into his office and told him that he would in future be paid only on sales of Victrolas. Plaintiff suggested that the commission would then have to be increased to five percent. Mr. Hinton asked for the contract and plaintiff gave it to him after ten days. Later on Mr. Hinton was taken ill and died. On August 19 the full amount of the commission was paid up till the end of July, plaintiff continued, and on August 10 he received three months' notice terminating his service. In July after Mr. Hinton died the plaintiff's agreement was found in the deceased's safe with an alteration in ink and initialled by Mr. Hinton only, witness said.

Plaintiff also explained that Mr. Hinton on August 20 accused him of not serving a Japanese customer who came to purchase some records, and caught him by the coat and pushed him out of the record room. He pointed out to Mr. Hinton that he had been serving the customer, and asked him to remove his hand from his body as he was not a ricsha coolie. When he tried to get the customer's name for future reference, Mr. Hinton asked the Japanese not to give his name or address. He went with Mr. Hinton to his office to receive his check and was informed that it would be paid the following Monday as he did not know how much commission had been earned. Asked to give the dismissal in writing Mr. Hinton declined.

Cross-examined, plaintiff said that his relations with one of the staff were good while with Mr. J. D. Wells they were not good. He had been in Canada, America and England in business. He considered that he was hit on exchange badly as Mr. Hinton, when he engaged him, assured him that a Mexican dollar was almost equal to the Canadian dollar and that the fluctuations were small. Plaintiff described this as "being hit below the belt." He asked the company to readjust his contract in the light of this. He would not suggest that the company was not entitled to give him three months' notice under the agreement. The company in fact offered to pay the passage of himself and his wife and also to pay a month's extra salary should he desire to terminate his agreement before the expiry of the notice.

The case was adjourned.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Jail Two Chinese For Thefts From Six Foreign Women

Terms of five years and two years imprisonment were meted out to two Chinese thieves who appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday on the charge of snatching the handbags of six foreign women in the Settlement during recent weeks.

It was shown by the evidence that the actual snatching was done by the younger of the two accused, who passed them over to the other man, who drew the longer sentence. The former was captured by a Japanese woman, Mrs. S. Taniguchi, after he had stolen her handbag, containing Yen 390 on Woosung Road. She managed to hold him until police assistance arrived. On information then gained the police arrested the other defendant.

The other victims of the pair's operaion were Miss Bourke, daughter of Superintendent of Police Bourke, whose bag was stolen December 3 on Broadway; Miss Bridges who lost $90 by the theft on Bubbling Well Road on November 25; Mrs. Filburn, whose bag containing $110 was snatched on December 1; Miss Purcell, who was robbed while walking on Boone Road December 7, and Mrs. Goldman, who lost her bag to the thieves on Seward Road December 17.

I tried different ointments and so-called cures, but they never did me any good. East China Intercollegiate Association Decides Not To Play Off Tie

The football committee of the East China Intercollegiate Athletic Association in a meeting held yesterday declared the championship for this year a triangular tie between Nanyang College, St. John's University and Shanghai College.

A play-off of the tie by extra post-season games was considered inopportune and undesirable for the following reasons:

1. It was evident that the efficiency of the scholastic work would be seriously impaired for almost a week at this most important period of the term.

2. The final examinations of the college term are so near that extra games would have had to be played within the period from January 5 to January 10 inclusive. This would necessitate, for one of the teams, that it play its two games with only one day intervening: for another that it play its games with only two days intervening: while one of the three teams would have the advantage of four days rest between its two games. This inequality of conditions might possibly turn the result in favor of a team not necessarily the strongest.

3. Finally, such play-off, involving two games for each of the tied teams, might again result in the same triangular tie, and in that case would be inconclusive. Or it might easily result, through tie games, in merely reducing the number of teams tied for the championship to two instead of three, in which case also it would be inconclusive.

The decision of the committee leaves the football title among Eastern Chinese Colleges as much in doubt as when the season first opened. The Big Three of other years, Nanking, St. John's and Nanyang were all upset out of their preference postitions by the performances of the Shanghai Baptist College which, until it met Nanyang went through the five preliminary games without defeat and with being scored against.

When Shanghai beat St. John's after having conquered Hangchow Christian College, and the National Southeastern university they attracted the attention of every Chinese student and many foreign football enthusiasts throughout China. When Nanking forefeited to them, and they followed with a win over Soochow they were rated as unbeatable in their one remaining game, that with Nanyang.

Nanyang however with a record of a win over N. S. E. U. and ties with Nanking and St. John's lost to St. John's in the play-off. When they went into the game with the undefeated Shanghai College they were not figured as strong enough to win. It was their victory that upset all of the collegiate football dope, and forced the tie in the tournament.

	Won	Lost	Drawn
S'hai Bap. Col.	5	1	0
St. John's	4	1	1
Nanyang	3	1	1
Soochow	2	3	0
Nanking	1	2	1
N. S. E. U.	0	4	0
Fuhtan	1	0	1
Hangchow	0	2	0

Lightweight Bout Postponed; Mitchell Unable To Fight

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 2.—With thousands of followers of the squared circle from all parts of the country in Milwaukee in the hope of seeing the scheduled ten-round fight for the world's lightweight championship between "Benny" Leonard, present titleholder, and "Pinkey" Mitchell of Milwaukee, Promoter Tom Andrews this morning was reluctantly forced to make the announcement that the match would have to be postponed because inflammation had set in in Mitchell's muscles as a result of over-training. No definite date has as yet been fixed for the postponed contest, but Andrews assured the disappointed fans that it would be staged as soon as Mitchell's condition permits.

Mitchell is a brother of "Richie" Mitchell, another lightweight championship contender, who gave Leonard his greatest fight at the charity boxing contests staged in New York a little more than a year ago by Miss Anne Morgan.

Up to the very last moment both Richie and brother "Pinkey" had proclaimed themselves confident that the lightweight crown would at last be brought home to the Mitchell family, but Richie, who is managing "Pinkey," refused to let his brother go on because of his condition.

PRACTICE WITH S.R.A.

For those men who would like more practice with the rifle than the limited number of Company periods on the range afford, the Shanghai Rifle Association offers an excellent opportunity. Two competitions are held monthly, with various charity and special competitions at different times during the year, and an annual rifle meeting in the month of May. Through its five classes, membership in which is determined by a percentage system, every man is given an equal chance. Special rifles are not essential, as the lower classes contain many members of other units of the S.V.C. who use the S.V.C. rifle as issued.

The American Company has as a rule formed one of the largest groups in the S.R.A., but new members are needed to replace those who have left Shanghai.

HENDRICKSEN WINS DRILL

Private Hendricksen won the first drill-down of the Second Platoon, held last Thursday evening. Corporal John was a good second. A drill-down, especially when catch commands are used, is an excellent mental test as well as a test in proficiency in the Manual of Arms. Private Hendricksen is to be congratulated on his success.

GENERAL PRACTICE

The January Range Program shows a large number of General Practice periods, from 3 to 6 p.m. on Mondays, Wedesdays and Fridays. Any member of the Company who has passed the Recruit Course is permitted to shoot on these days, but the Corps does not furnish the ammunition. Arrangements have been made to sell to our members, through Supply Sergeant Viloudaki, 10 Hankow Road, ammunition for use on these days at its cost to us, four cents a round. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to practice before firing the course for record.

If you would like to have a coach, notify your squad leader. If he cannot do the job he will get someone who can. Practice is only valuable when the firer has mastered the preliminaries. To go on the range without a clear conception of what you are going to do and how to do it is to form bad shooting habits which are hard to overcome. "It is much easier to make an excellent shot out of a man who has never fired a rifle than it is to correct the errors of a man who has done a good deal of shooting under improper supervision."

SPECIAL COMPETITION

Football and other activities interfered seriously with the attendance at the special spoon competition held at the Rifle Range on Saturday last. Privates Gale and Strawn were given easy wins in their respective classes. Lieut.

Anaemia is a dangerous condition either in man or woman because thin watery blood means lessened power of resistance to disease. Rheumatism not only causes but follows anaemia. If you suffer from Indigestion most likely your blood, and not your stomach, is chiefly at fault. Nervous Debility, loss of energy and spirit, result from poverty of blood. In all these cases the right treatment is tonic, and because they are so wonderful a tonic for the blood and nerves no better remedy exists than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is why their reputation is worldwide and a third-of-a-century old. They will help you as they have helped others. Porter And Bush To Play First Semi Final Tonight

Will Meet At Masonic Club; Johnson And de Campos Play Tomorrow

Semi finals in the Shanghai Amateur Billiard Tournament will be played tonight and tomorrow. There are four contestants yet in the play, Messrs. C. W. Porter, he holder of the title; E. D. Bush, R. C. N. Johnson and J. P. de Campos. The first two named meet in two sessions of 400 points each at the Masonic Club tonight commencing at 6 and at 9, while the latter two play tomorrow perhaps at the Marine Engineers institute.

The semi finals are conceded by billiard fans to Porter and Johnson, with the final match seeing one of the hardest billiard battles ever staged in Shanghai. Many followers of the game declare that Johnson has reached a playing condition and aptness that will give him a comparatively easy win over the champion, while others hold that Porter's experience in tournament play will retain his honors for him.

Johnson's play in the first and second round was brilliant. His run of 145 against Capt. Barrett Friday, after the Captain had started off to a big lead, was one of the strongest pieces of billiard play seen in this city. When he totalled up his 800 points in 2 hours and fifteen minutes he set a time record for that score. Johnson is said to be "right" now to win the 1921 crown for billiards.

Prominent Army Sportsman From Manila In Town

Major W. Dent, director of the Manila Baseball League, and one of the big men in athletics in the Philippine Islands, is a visitor in Shanghai for about 10 days. He arrived on the Silver State.

Major Dent is president of the four-team league on the Island of Corregidor at the entrance to Manila Harbor, where he is stationed. Here an artillery team, a Philippine Scout team and two teams from the Air Service, are fighting it out for the pennant.

Dent has been a factor in Philippine Islands for several years. When General Evans, now retired, was commanding the Department of the Philippines, Major Dent, then a lieutenant, was his aide and his special work was looking after the interests of American Army teams entered in the various competitions.

British Women's Association Notes

The following new members are recorded as having joined the Association during the past week: Mrs. J. W. Barrows, Mrs. Alistair St. Clair Campbell, Miss M. C. Cardwell, Mrs. Gates, Mrs. L. M. Grundy, Miss M. M. Murphy and Mrs. Spring.

LITERARY SECTION

Despite the holidays and other circumstances that threatened to militate against it, Professor Roxby's address to the Literary Section and their friends at the Carlton Cafe on Monday last must be recorded as one of the most successful meetings that the B. W. A. has so far had to chronicle. Those ladies responsible for its initiation and carrying out of the arrangements are to be congratulated most warmly upon having acted as a medium between this distinguished lecturer and an audience which included many who might not otherwise have had the privilege of hearing his views on the educational position in China. The subject is one that is uppermost among most of the thinking people, be they Chinese or foreign, today and the impressions and experience culled by Dr. Roxby during the months spent in examining educational systems in China as one of the two British members of the Commission now at work in this country proved as interesting as they are valuable.

Dwelling upon the immense progress in the manner in which Western education has come to be regarded by the official and governing classes in China during the past couple of decades, Professor Roxby mentioned Shansi as the most developed province from an educational standpoint and the enlightenment of its Governor as being in the main responsible for this condition where today 50 percent of the villages have primary schools and all boys and nearly all girls have the chance of modern education.

Dr. Roxby proceeded to make a most effective plea for tolerance on the part of the foreign community towards the student class in China, urging them, in short, to "mark the hits as well as to count the misses." The student class, he claimed, as a whole best represents China, that from them as a whole he had gained the impression that there is among them a real feeling of responsibility, and that from them will surely come the future leaders of China: "How the student activities will develop depends upon how they are directed and upon what influences are brought to bear upon them. Here is where the foreign attitude is significant."

The foreign community can, the lecturer stated, help enormously in regard to the future of China if it will extend its sympathies, show its realisation of their difficulties, not being captious and censorious, to the student class of this country.

The audience, nearly 200, which comprised some of the leading educationalists, both British and American, in China listened with rapt attention to Professor Roxby for upwards of an hour, at the end of which a very cordial vote of thanks was accorded to him at the instance of Mrs. Ayscough, who in a few telling remarks emphasised the possibilities on the lines indicated by the lecturer that lay before such an association as the B. W. A. The Committee of the Section desire to extend their best thanks to the ladies who provided the cakes and sandwiches on this occasion and especially to Mrs. and Miss Thomson who undertook all arrangements in connexion with tea.

MUSICAL SECTION

The Musical Section has issued its Spring program of events with commendable alacrity, opening on January 13, at the Carlton Cafe at 5:30 p.m. with a recital by Professor Zalsmann as follows:

1.—Songs, Le Charme, (E. Chausson) L'Invitation au Voyage (Duparc) La Vie Anterieure (Duparc) ..... Professor Zalsmann.

DR. NANSEN WEEPS UPON ARRIVAL IN STARVING RUSSIA

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Dec. 28.—On his arrival in the Volga famine region, Dr. Nansen, who has seen people dying of hunger on many previous occasions, could not refrain from weeping like a child when he was surrounded by crowds of starving people at his feet begging for deliverance.

According to Dr. Nansen, it is dangerous to bury the dead and it is necessary to guard the fresh graves as otherwise the bodies will be seized and devored by the hungry people. A case has been officially registered in which a mother killed her 11 year old boy, hid it in safe quarters and ate it by chunks. This and other cases are related by Dr. Nansen.

Moscow, Dec. 28.—Recently a conference of the Soviets was held for the main object of devising ways and means of saving the millions of starving people. A delegate from Samara made a report on the sufferings in that province. According to this, millions of people are driven crazy by hunger and are dying without receiving any aid. There are millions of hungry children, while only 200,000 of them are being fed. The adults are receiving almost no assistance. Eighty percent of the sufferers are doomed to starvation. There is even no grass to eat.

Harbin, Dec. 30.—An exhibition in the streets of Tokio undertaken by Japanese workers in aid of Russian famine has been closed by the metropolitan police on the ground that it endangers the peace of the city.

LABOR ORGANISES IN AMUR PROVINCE AGAINST JAPANESE

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, Dec. 30.—The Trade and Labor Council of the Amur Province has issued an appeal to the trade union members, stating that the demand of the representatives of the Far Eastern Republic at the Dairen Conference for the evacuation of Japanese forces from Russian territory is followed by the Japanese arming the White Guards and the Japanese Command actively co-operating in the assault upon the Far Eastern Republic. The Trade and Labor Council invites all the workers to take up arms in defense of the republic.

Chita, Dec. 30.—The Trade Unions of Blagoveschensk have held a general mass meeting which decided to organise workers' detachments for the purpose of defending the Far Eastern Republic against the combined forces of Russian reactionaries and the Japanese.

The workers and employes of the Chita railway have unanimously decided to defend their rights and their Government against the Japanese intervention.

The Transbaikal Provincial Committee of the Communist Party has resolved to train all members of the party, for military service.

Chinese Navy Men Become Insistent In Demanding Pay

It was reported here yesterday that the Chinese gunboats which have been lying near the Arsenal have left their moorings and the officers in charge have refused to take orders form the commander-in-chief on consequence of the continued delay of the Peking government to pay the salaries which are many months in arrears.

Inquiry at the Admiralty offices resulted in an admission that the officers and men have presented a demand for the payment of their back salaries, but it was denied that they had refused to take orders and it was stated that a report concerning the matter will be issued.

Public Band To Tour Far East Each September

Maestro M. Paci's Public Band will make an annual tour, either of Japan or the Philippines, according to the Municipal Gazette. The tour was recommended by the conductor and confirmed by the Municipal Council. The trips are to be made in September of each year, when the musicians' vacations fall due.

Arrangements covering the tours provide for the payment of musicians' passages and all expenses incurred and a payment to the council of a certain sum for the services of the band. In addition a substantial deposit will be required as security for the fulfilment of arrangements made.

The Public Band will give a repeat performance of the Sunday concert, because of the demand from those not able to attend, on Tuesday evenings at 9 p.m.

It has also been decided, upon the conductor's recommendation to arrange a series of chamber music and soloist concerts to be given twice monthly on a week day at 9 p.m.

Open air orchestral concerts will in future be given in Hongkew Park during June, July and August. A reserved space accommodating 1,500 persons will be roped off.

British Envoy Fails To Pay New Year Call

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Jan. 3.—According to word current today in legation circles, the British legation officials alone neglected to call on the President on New Year's day. This is interpreted as a drastic protest against the failure of the Peking government to take action in the Amoy beach incident and may have an important aftermath.

Peking Police Tense; New Chief In Charge

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Jan. 3.—A mandate issued today replaces Yin Hung-shou, chief of the metropolitan police, by Hsueh Tze-heng. There has been great unrest among the police force because of the fact that salaries for the past month and a half have been in arrears, and this has been heightened by the change of heads. Feeling in the matter is regarded as rather tense.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

January 4, 1922

Our last report was dated December 31. Since that date, spot and forward bar silver are each down ¼d. in London.

The New York price has declined to 64½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 421. The official quotations here today were unchanged from Saturday with the exception of the Yen rate which was dropped to 66¾.

Our market here today was steady to firm, with sellers of Sterling for January at between 3-6 and 3-6¼, for February at 3-5¾, and for March at 3-5¼.

There were Gold Dollar sellers at 74 for January, 73¼ for February, and 72½ for March. Money here is becoming much easier, and today there was practically no difference between the cash rate and that ruling for January.

The spread between January and succeeding months also shows a tendency to decrease, so that it hardly looks as if there will be any particular stringency over China New Year.

India and the Continent sold silver in London yesterday, and we understand there is every possibility of the Continent continuing to be a steady seller.

New York report their market as nominal, with sellers and no buyers.

Hongkong Shares

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor of Hongkong write as follows in their weekly share report dated Hongkong, December 30.

Owing to the holidays we have had a very quiet market, with transactions few and far between.

The Shanghai market has however continued to improve with buyers prevailing in Cottons.

Rubber continues firm.

The following are the principal alterations since last week.

Hongkong Banks:—Old Shares, are wanted at $735, and New Shares, at $720.

Cantons:—Are nominal at $440.

Unions:—Have eased off and close with buyers at $235 and Sellers at $240.

Hongkong Docks:—After coming to business at $170, close with sellers at $173.

China Sugars:—Are nominal at $180.

Cements:—Are quiet and a few shares have changed hands at $24¾.

Hongkong Lands:—Continue in good demand and close with buyers at $207½, after sales at $208.

Humphreys:—Are quiet at $10.90.

Shanghai Docks:—Are nominal at Tls. 111.

Star Ferries:—Have again been done at $32 and close with buyers at $31½ and no sellers.

Shell Transports:—Could be obtained at 92/-.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending yesterday.

Exchange:—The London price of silver at 34½d. is ⅝d. lower than last week. The "end of the year" exchange settlement was carried through smoothly and on Dec. 31, our rate for T.T. on London declined 1d. to 3/5d. We open the year at this rate, and in view of the approaching China New Year settlement our market remains steady for early delivery and easy forward.

The undertone of the market is weak.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:—

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 29,577,000, an increase of Tls. 464,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $22,740,000, a decrease of $860,000.

Estimated value in Tls. 45,949,000 as against Tls. 53,491,000 held at this time last year.

China And The Washington Conference

CHINA'S feeling of blank disappointment at the blighting of the high hopes she at first entertained at the prospect of getting her wrongs righted by the historic Conference at Washington is understandable. Residence for the past few years in this great country and an intelligent following of what has been eventuating in the land, have revealed the growing hostility of the people for any country or nation that attempted to prevent China from following her own policy or that regarded the impotency of the country as a means for getting something out of it at its expense. The Chinese people have strongly objected to their country's being looked upon by any foreign power as a type of happy hunting ground. They have been cognisant of their own shortcomings, the failure of their different executives and the financial difficulties into which their country has got, but they have never swerved from their determination to retain the management of their own affairs in their own hands and to make it clear that China was not to become, with their consent, the possession of one or more of the powers of the world. Maladministration has shown itself in China, but there is abundant proof in the attitude of the people towards the Shantung Question and the hot cry for the abrogation of the Twenty-One Demands, to demonstrate that the Chinese people are thoroughly patriotic and that the love of their country is to day implanted firmly in them all. They entertained, for the most part, sanguine expectations about the Washington Conference. They regarded it as an unprecedented opportunity for stating their grievances and for getting them redressed. Disarmament was not really a concern of China's. It was not a pressing question in this land and the majority of the Chinese people were uninterested in it. But Shantung and the Twenty-One Demands were burning matters that touched the very vitality of the Chinese nation. No country could have been in doubt as to how the Chinese people regarded the Washington Conference and as to what they thought it would be able to do for them. They did not intend to put forward absurd requests or to demand that the Powers should concede the impossible, but they did think that what they have persistently felt were gross injustices done to them because of their weakness as a nation would be righted. Washington would rectify the mistakes of Versailles.

But the Chinese people realise that their hopes have not fructified and they cannot but continue to feel that they have not received the justice which is their due. The Washington Conference would have gone down to posterity as the mightiest moral movement that humanity had ever conceived, if it had been able to reshuffle the cards and get a fair and square deal for China.

The Conference could have informed Japan that it would take up the subjects proposed by China, but that while it would not be prepared to employ force to make Japan accept and carry out its verdict, yet it would pronounce its feelings on the subjects. Then the onus for China's failure would not have been laid on the Conference as it will now be, but on Japan's attitude.

The Chinese people know that they have not been treated with respect or with honor by Japan. They seem determined not to negotiate with the Japanese for the return of what they contend is theirs and not Japan's. To open negotiations they argue is to acknowledge that there is something to be said in favor of the other side and this they are not prepared to concede. Their whole attitude towards the abrogation of the Twenty-One Demands and the future of Shantung has been consistent. It is, moreover, the sole policy upon which there appears unification in the country. The people of the North are opposed and so are those of the South. It is impossible to do other than sympathise with the Chinese over their disappointment, which is as poignant as it could be. The countries represented at Washington must be made to understand how keenly the Conference's failure to answer China touches to the quick the people of China. A quarter of the inhabitants of the earth are feeling that they have been exploited as the price of Japan's willingness to acquiesce in certain proposals of the great powers.

China can comfort herself with the realisation that her representation has not been in vain. She has not been successful in securing what she thought would be hers because of the justice of her cause, but a fuller realisation of the patriotism, that is latent in her people, and of their persistent determination to get their wrongs redressed by the frank acknowledgment that they have been unjustly treated, and their willingness to suffer for the cause rather than that it should be jeopardised by any weakening of the attitude they have adopted from the commencement are points to her credit. China's policy may be a debatable point, but the Chinese nation is united in this matter and the proofs furnished by it that the people are willing to sacrifice rather than concede, demonstrate traits in the character of the Chinese nation that augur well for its future.

The trouble at Washington is that the Great Powers have claims and are able and willing to fight for them, and thus immoral compromises are forced, while China, which also has claims, is unable to fight for them. But another day may bring another tale.

Christmas Party Aids Poor Families

The annual Christmas party was held on January 1, 1922 at 2 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Institution of the Holy Family, 20 North Honan Road, by the St. Joseph's Benevolent Society for Chinese.

This Society now in the 6th year of its existence has proved very popular, owing to its special aim—to give help to the poor workmen's families, whom a sudden death, a long infirmity, a great number of children, or any other circumstances have brought to the verge of misery.

The work of the Society, made possible through the good will of its members, the support of kind hearted friends and the generosity of the Race Club, extends over all the year in the form of monthly or weekly donations. Annually a special Christmas party is organised for the benefit of thepoor, all of whom receive warm clothes, money, rice tickets and useful little gifts.

On Sunday the large hall of the Institution was filled almost to its capacity; the meeting was presided over by Rev. Father C. Baumert, S. J., assisted by Mr. Mathias Lee, the retiring president, and Mr. San Ken-sin, the newly elected president. There were present the Rev. Father Jacquinot S. J., whose works on charity feasts are most invaluable, and a number of Christian and non-Christian friends.

The opening address was given by Rev. Father Stephen Zee, S. J., of Siccawei. He first quoted a sentence from Mencius: "He who has no feeling of charity is not a man." He then had the same illustrated by a few texts from the Gospel, and said finally that true charity must be extended to all, Christian and non-Christian, without any encroachment, on their liberty.

The party was made very attractive by the many recreative amusements and by the music which was kindly and voluntarily supplied by the Chapei band.

The distribution over, Mr. Mathias Lee said a few appropriate words in Chinese and in English, thanking all the benefactors, the Committee of the Race Club, the ladies who have worked throughout the year to prepare the clothes, and all those who had contributed to the success of the party. At the conclusion cakes, sweets and tea were served to the poor, after which, the gathering parted.

Chinese Invading Business In Cuba

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Dec. 31.—The Chinese invasion of retail commerce in Cuba which had formerly been entirely in the hands of the Spaniards, is exciting the attention of Spanish business interests in the island and the Diario de la Marina, mouthpiece of those interests, has felt called upon to sound a serious warning. The monopoly of certain lines of business enjoyed by the Spainards such as grocery stores, restaurants, fruit and vegetable stores, dry goods and notions, and country general stores, is being seriously menaced by the Chinese and in Havana particularly the Asiatics are fast taking away Spanish trade.

Following is the warning of the Diario de la Marina:

"Not a week passes but that some ship discharges in the port of Havana many individuals of the Asiatic race, The Chinese, who formerly devoted themselves to work of a certain kind in the big sugar mills, have invaded the towns possessing themselves of laundries, fruit stands, grocery stores, notion and general stores. The Asiatic colony of Havana is disseminated throughout every ward.

"The authorities remain with their arms crossed and the commercial elements of the country are not protesting against the injury which this undesirable immigaration is bound to do us, and is already doing us, and they will soon have invaded all centers of production, possessing themselves of a large portion of the republic's commerce. We therefore feel obliged to raise the alarm. Let us prevent Cuba from being converted into an immense Chinese colony and field of Chinese exploitation."

In spite of the excitement of the business journal the Cuban people as a whole do not share the feeling of the paper for they feel that in the new order there is an opportunity for relief from the Spanish commercial tyranny that has come down from the days of Spanish domination. Practically all small business in the island has been in the hands of the Spaniards until the Chinese began to invade the field. They were first brought to Cuba when the increase in sugar production caused a demand for labor and a letting down of all bars on immigration.

With the drop in the price of sugar and the curtailment of production these new laborers were thrown out of work and while the negroes who had been imported were largely repatriated, the Chinese set to work to take over retail business. Their success in Cuba as in every place in which they trade throughout the world, is due to their industry and satisfaction with small profits. The Spanish in dealing with ignorant countrymen used to charge high prices and make enormous profits and consequently the Chinese stores with their lower prices are very popular among the Cubans themselves in spite of the very different attitude on the question taken by the Spanish business interests.

Find Old Faults In New Cabinet

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Dec. 31.—The present cabinet has the same weaknesses as the one that has just ceased to exist, according to the Peking Shun Tien Shih Pao and because of this it declares that the new cabinet will meet the same fate as its predecessor. "There is not the slightest doubt about this," it says.

"The weak point in the present cabinet is the Communications and Finance portfolios. What was weak in the Chin Cabinet is also weak in the present cabinet. In a word, as the Cabinet fell because of these two posts, so will the Liang Cabinet meet its fate because of them. There is not the slightest doubt about this.

"Moreover, the supersession of Mr. Chang Chi-tan by Yeh Kung-cho savors too much of an act of political retaliation and will make the breach between the Chiaotung clique and the Chihli faction wider. Can this be considered as a satisfactory arrangement on the part of the new Premier. We understand that Liang was at first against the reinstatement of Yeh in the Ministry of Communication and we regard this as a wise decision. We know that Yeh is an expert in communications problems and has a very strong influence in the communication ministry. Because of this, it is all the more unnecessary that he should again head that Ministry.

"Any other post in the Cabinet would serve the best interests of Yeh and the Chiaotung Clique. For if Yeh did not head the ministry of communications and had been given any other post than the portfolio of communications, that would have the advantage of retaining the control of the ministry of communication without antagonising the Chihli Party.

"Any act of political retaliation will be sure to produce reaction and should be avoided by careful politicians. And it is unfortunate that Liang should not have remembered this in his appointment of Yeh as minister of communications. The portfolio of finance is the most important post, so far as the present political situation of China is concerned and should be filled by the most capable and brilliant man in the cabinet. The appointment of Mr. Chang to that post came, therefore, as a great disappointment to the people, as Chang's conduct is a subject of nation-wide disapproval.

"The Liang Cabinet has also some strong points which its predecessor did not possess. These are that since Liang is known as the "God of Wealth" he can raise money for the government to tide over its financial difficulty, and that he stands in a more favorable position than General Chin regarding the unification question."

Soviet Is In Full Control Of Chita

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Dec. 30.—It is reported that the principle of coalition in the Chita National Council and Government is gradually being rejected by the Communists, who consider that the coalition was only necessary in the days of the formation of the buffer staff chiefly for diplomatic purposes. Besides, there is a decidedly hostile feeling at Chita towards Social revolutionaries, chiefly on the part of the Communists, who accuse the former of relations with Merkuloff's Government.

Relations between the Far Eastern Republic and Soviet Russia which previously were kept very quiet are now openly spoken of and the fact that the Far Eastern Republic is nearly an autonomous province of Soviet Russia, the ruling regime of which is not based on the coalition principle naturally renders the coalition at Chita only a hindrance to the spreading of the Soviet doctrine.

It is considered here that the fact that the Whites have occupied Habarovsk and have practically cleared the Maritime Province of the Reds will inevitably lead to a still closer relationship between the Far Eastern Republic and Soviet Russia. It is reported that Soviet reinforcements are being hurried down to Transbaikalia in order to enable the Far Eastern Republic command to concentrate all available forces in the Blagoveschensk sector.

It is rumored that a new mobilisation has been declared at Chita in connection with the fall of Habarovsk, which is most unpopular amongst the inhabitants. The reports of insurrections amongst the troops and disorders in various industrial centers caused by the order of mobilisation are however not true, as all reliable sources agree that no disorders have occurred anywhere.

It is reported that nearly all the rolling stock on the Western section of the Chita railway has, owing to transportation of troops, been shifted to the Amur Railway. Traffic on the former is consequently at a standstill.

Peking Teachers Demand Pay

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Dec 31.—Teachers of the eight government schools in Peking are still making very strenuous efforts to obtain the arrears of pay due to them and thus do away with the necessity of striking as they have constantly threatened. Representatives have called upon Premier Liang, Yeh Kung-cho, the Minister of Communications, and Vice-Minister of Education Chen but no very definite statements have been obtained from these men.

The Minister of Communications was reminded that when he was formerly in office he promised that his department would turn over $220,000 monthly for educational expenses. Mr. Yeh replied, however, that since that time the situation had changed very much and pointed out that the government was not responsible directly for the payment of teachers in the middle and primary schools as they were supported by the Peking municipality and Peking district government.

At a meeting held yesterday presided over by Mr. Yun, the reports of these visits to the authorities were given and it was stated that the authorities intended to issue one month of arrears each before the foreign new year and Chinese New Year. This proposition was discussed but the meeting decided that something more definite would have to be done as the teachers were dependent on their salaries and could not afford to have the payment of their arrears spread over several months.

The following method of payment was then agreed upon and it was decided that letters embodying these demands should be drawn up immediately and sent to the premier, the minister of communications, and the vice-minister of education. It was decided first that the December salaries should be paid before the end of the month; secondly that the October arrears and those of the last half of July should be cleared up by January 7; and finally that the January salaries and the arrears for November be paid before Chinese New Year.

Chang Tso-lin Says Kick Us Out

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Dec. 30.—"China will never have a strong and respected Central Government until she gets rid of all her corrupt officials—including myself," said Marshal Chang Tso-lin, warlord and cabinet-maker, in the course of a recent interview with the Peking correspondent of the Associated Press.

In further discussion of China's problems with the Associated Press correspondent Marshal Chang stated that the corruption and weakness of recent Peking Governments produced the logical result that the provinces would not obey Peking.

"The only solution for China," said Marshal Chang, "is the establishment of a strong central government, free of graft and corruption, which will command the respect of the provinces and make the provincial leaders obey it."

Such a government, according to Chang Tso-lin, could unite the country without much difficulty. But governments as corrupt and weak as those of the past few years would only hasten the disunion and disintegration that are now spreading throughout the country.

CHANG SATISFIED

(Evening Star Service)

Peking, Jan. 3.—Chang Tso-lin, Mukden war-lord, left Tientsin on his way to Mukden today after having stated his satisfaction at "having strengthened the Peking government and placed it in a better position to meet the problems arising at Washington."

Belgian Bank Directors' Report

The following is part of the report of the board of Directors of the Banque Belge Pour L'Etranger approved of by the shareholders at the general meeting held in Brussels on November 16:

"As foreshadowed in our last report, the steady development of our affairs induced us to propose to you the raising of our Capital. At the Extraordinary General Meeting on 21st February last you approved such increase of our Capital to 100,000,000 francs by the creation of 100,000 shares of 500 francs each. The subscription, which was closed on 1st April, was a complete success.

These new resources will enable our Branches abroad to afford increasing support to Belgian manufacturers and merchants, and to our large clientele. In the course of the year under review we have been gratified in witnessing the success of our efforts in this direction. We have been able to assist our compatriots in obtaining important contracts abroad, and, together with the Societe Generale de Belgique as well as several of its affiliated banks more especially, have supplied the financial backing which placed our manufacturers in a position to grant their customers abroad the desired credits.

The various departments of the Heal Office at Brussels are following a normal course of development.

Our London Office, whilst remaining the indispensable intermediary for our relations with overseas countries, has built up a profitable business of its own. The growth of its operations induces us to undertake the reconstruction of the present inadequate premises, the demolition of which was decided already in 1914, but retarded by the outbreak of war.

Our branch at Paris, which was definitely organised in the course of the present year, is, similarly to those at New York and Cologne, an essential part of our network; we note with satisfaction the growth of its business, and the place it occupies in that market.

The activity of our branches in Egypt has been considerably restricted in consequence of the crisis due as much to the previous excess of imports as to the rapid fall in the price of cotton. We have felt the recoil of its inevitable effect upon our clients, and have made the nesessary provision for meeting any resultant losses. We may add that the economic situation of the country seems to be improving.

China has likewise been passing through a trying time, but the enlightened and prudent policy of our managers has enabled them to show excellent results. The export trade remains subdued, especially from the north; stocks accumulated in Europe and America are being disposed of with difficulty. The import trade has also been sluggish, though in recent months there have been signs of recovery.

Our Bucarest branch has just been moved to the building we have bought, the fitting up of which is terminated.

As a result of the agreements entered last November with the Wiener Bank-Verein, Vienna, we are sharing in the reorganisation, as local banks, of the branches of this important Institution in the Succession States of Austria-Hungary. We have in this way secured particularly competent representation in Central Europe, and opened up at the same time new spheres of activity.

Our general expenses show an increase proportionate to the growth of our business and to the measures taken to improve the position of our officers and staff. In spite of all appropriations necessitated by the economic crisis, the balance of our Profit and Loss Account enables us to propose to you the distribution of a dividend equal to that of last year, whilst at the same time amply increasing our reserves.

ELECTRICITY
THE SILENT SERVANT.

¶ A touch of the switch and the Electric Fire immediately gives a bright and cheering heat. Another touch and the heat ceases—just when you wish.
¶ You can carry it to your bed room. Its comforting warmth will protect you from chill. Switch it on in the morning and dress in comfort.
¶ The room which you so seldom use in winter can be made warm at small cost and no attendant work. Decorations and furniture will be protected against damp and the whole home will smell sweeter. An electric fire in the bath room will make for health and comfort.

For particulars and choice of radiators see the types on view in our Showroom.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 2.—A pronounced earthquake was felt here this morning. The temblor started at 9:30 o'clock and lasted for fifty-five minutes. Many chimneys fell as a result of the quake, but the property damage was relatively small and no one was injured.

Curzon Leaves To Attend Cannes Meet

(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, Jan. 3.—Lord Curzon left London today to attend the inter-Allied conference at Cannes.

GERMANS STAND FIRM IN FACE OF RAIL STRIKE

(Chung Mei News Agency)
Nauen, Dec. 29.—The German cabinet has declined to accept the ultimatum of the railroad men with regard to paying them advance money on their wage increase. The cabinet takes the stand that such payments would involve an immediate expenditure of several thousand millions of marks, which the Treasury is unable to raise.
It was the belief of the cabinet that yielding to the demands of the railway men would be like giving them the inch from which they would take the usual all.
Railway workers at Elberfeld have consequently gone on strike. So far traffic has, on the whole, been maintained by turning trains away from Elberfeld to other districts. But serious traffic interruptions are anticipated.
The Minister of Communications is still endeavoring to prevent the spreading of the strike movement, as a traffic standstill would mean that most of the nation's industry would be shut down. Food transportation would also stop, thus causing great suffering to the entire nation.
Negotiations between the minister of communications and the railway workmen are still going on.
